The Blood Type Diet

Some doctors have started to research diets that coincide with particular blood types. The premise of these diets attempts to match people with their common dietary needs based on their blood type

BLOOD TYPE DIET

The South Beach Diet

Certain carbohydrates are completely avoided. It does not eliminate carbohydrates altogether, but aims to educate dieters on which carbs to always avoid.

The diet includes a selection of:

- Healthy fats
- Lean protein
- Good carbs

The Weight Watchers diet

It is a commercial weight loss program that involves following:

- structured eating plan
- regular physical activity
- behavioral therapy

-It is based on a points system

The Mediterranean Diet

This is another kind of vegetable-heavy diet that avoids a lot of meat but does not eliminate it altogether.

It recommends the use of oil as much as possible and that means as an alternative to butter, salad dressings or marinades. It also emphasizes adding vegetables to each meal and favors fish over chicken. Whole grains, nuts and herbs are also used in larger amounts.

Raw Food Diet

This is a diet that places a premium on eating uncooked and unprocessed foods. The diet eliminates the intake of any foods that have been pasteurized or produced with any kind of synthetics or additives.

The diet is intended to create a surge in energy, a decrease in inflammation, while also lowering the number of carcinogens in one's diet.

Macrobiotic Diet

The macrobiotic diet aims to avoid foods containing toxins. Many people follow a completely vegan diet with no dairy products or meats. But some people eat small amounts of organic fish and meat. There is no scientific evidence that the macrobiotic diet treats or cures cancer.

HCG Diet

Human chorionic gonadotropin (hCG) is a hormone produced by the placenta during pregnancy. It is responsible for maintaining the corpus luteum, which produces progesterone, a hormone that is essential for maintaining the pregnancy.

Detox Diets

Detox diets are generally short-term dietary interventions designed to eliminate toxins from body. A typical detox diet involves a period of fasting, followed by a strict diet of fruit, vegetables, fruit juices, and water. Sometimes a detox also includes herbs, teas.

Carnivore Diet

The carnivore diet is a restrictive diet that only includes meat, fish, and other animal foods like eggs and certain dairy products.

It excludes all other foods, including fruits, vegetables, legumes, grains, nuts, and seeds.

It lacks beneficial nutrients, including fiber and plant compounds like antioxidants. It may be unsafe for some people.

Therapeutic Diets

A therapeutic diet is a meal plan that controls the intake of certain foods or nutrients. It is part of the treatment of a medical condition and are normally prescribed by a physician and planned by a dietitian.

A therapeutic diet is usually a modification of a regular diet. It is modified or tailored to fit the nutrition needs of a particular person.
